

Jennifer Barnhill is a freelance writer with a focus on military family advocacy, the Chief Operating Officer of Partners in PROMISE, Navy spouse of 15 years, mother of three and podcast host (Disruptive Storytelling with Military Changemakers). Her volunteer work includes serving on the National Military Spouse Network Day of Advocacy Steering Committee and the Board of Directors for the League of Wives Memorial Project. Jennifer has also recently published the findings on her independently conducted Military Spouse Group survey in order to learn more about the future of these groups. Her work on this project has appeared in Military Families Magazine and The War Horse.

Jennifer is currently studying at the University of North Carolina Chapel Hill in pursuit of her Master of Public Administration, with a concentration in nonprofit management.