

Christy Gliniak is a committed military spouse of 20 years and a devoted mother of two. She resides in Spokane, WA, where her husband, Lt Col Rick Gliniak, currently serves as the 116th Air Refueling Squadron Commander at Fairchild AFB.

Christy works as a neonatal occupational therapist who serves high-risk infants and their families in the neonatal intensive care unit (NICU) at MultiCare Deaconess Hospital. She serves on the leadership team for the National Association of Neonatal Therapists and is an instructor at Whitworth University as part of the Occupational Therapy Doctoral Program. This year, Christy is on track to complete her Ph.D. in Infant and Early Childhood Development from Fielding Graduate University. She also aims to foster connection and support within her military family as one of the KeySpouse volunteers for the 141st Air Refueling Wing.
