

Josh Protas is the Vice President of Public Policy and heads the Washington, D.C. office for MAZON: A Jewish Response to Hunger. In this role, Josh coordinates and implements MAZON's advocacy agenda, including efforts to protect and strengthen the federal nutrition safety net, with particular emphasis on the food security needs in Indian Country and Puerto Rico and for seniors, veterans, and military families. Josh is co-author with Abby J. Leibman of MAZON's groundbreaking 2021 report Hungry in the Military. He has extensive experience working at Jewish communal agencies in Arizona and at the national level.
